NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

RENOMINATION OF GOVERNOR LUCIUS ROBINSON,

Never Again by Fraud or Force Shall the Popular Will be Set Aside forPartisans.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 11.—The Democratic convention was called to order and after considerable lively discussion a resolution was adopted requesting the delegates from the several Congressional Districts to select and name their respective members of the State committee and if in any case the majority cannot agree upon its number to report the facts to the convention for its action.

THE PLATFORM.

The platform of the Democratic State Convention adopted to-day re-asserts the principles of popular liberty laid down by the founders of the republic and holds to the constitution and rights of the States under the constitution, and opposes the tendencies of the Republican party to centralization and consolidation. It declares this republic is a nation to the extent and for the purposes defined in the constitution, but that the Democrats will resist all attempts to transform it into an empire. It deprecates the efforts of the Republican managers to revive sectional feuds. It demands honest elections and an honest count, and says never again by fraud or force shall popular will be set aside to gratify unscrupulous partisans. It condemns the use of federal patronage to influence elections, and expresses shame and sorrow at the disgraceful repudiation of all professions of civil service reform by the Executive and his supporters. It favors gold and silver as the constitutional money of the country, but condemns the speculative methods of the present Secretary of the Treasury in the favoritism shown by him to particular banks and syndicates and the extravagances permitted in connection with his refunding schemes. It condemns the action of the President and Republicans in Congress with regard to questions debated in extra session, and declares the Democrats will continue to uphold the system of untrammeled suffrage, absolutely free from federal force or supervision.

After the adoption of the platform the convention proceeded to make nominations. Samuel Hand, of Albany, presented the name of Lucius Robinson, which was greeted with cheers, hooting and hisses.

C. W. Brooks, of New York, put in nomination General Henry W. Slocum. (Great applause.)

After speeches against the nomination of Robinson by T. Grady, of New York, and J. McGuire, which were frequently interrupted by hisses and applause, Mr. Cowen presented the name of John C. Jacobs, chairman of the Convention, and asked the secretary to put the question of his nomination by acclamation. There was almost a unanimous response of yeas and a long and continued cheering, after which the secretary declared Mr. Jacobs nominated. The latter, however, declined to accept and decided the nomination informal and irregular. Great confusion and excitement ensued but at 4 o'clock, when quiet was restored, the roll was called for a vote. After twenty had voted for Robinson the Tammany delegation withdrew and the remainder of the convention nominated Robinson by 243 to 58.

Delaney special master, the judge this morning made an order sustaining the motion and annulling the order of August 20, 1879, appointing William H. Delaney special master.

Not Overdrawn.

NEW YORK, September 11.—A special dispatch from Atlanta says the reports of a fatal fever raging in the counties of Polk, Paulding and Harralson have not been overdrawn. Within a few days over fifty men died in the exclusively rural population, the victims mostly young men. Those attacked with it suffer horribly, the tongue turning black and swelling to double its size, and blood oozing from the mouth and ears. After death the bodies become spotted and discolored. One physician reported that of twenty-nine cases under his treatment not one recovered. The course of the disease runs in a few days. The greatest alarm and distress prevails and the disease is steadily spreading. The physicians pronounce it spotted typhus fever.

No reference is made in the letter by General Grant to the Presidential contest next fall.

A STRANGER.

FROM WASHINGTON.

SECRETARY SHERMAN HAS AN ECONOMICAL FIT.

Discharge of Treasury Clerks---The Wisconsin Gubernatorial Nomination--Radical Campaign Fund.

Specials to the Baltimore Sun.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The Secretary of the Treasury says there is a good deal of nonsense talked about the recent discharge of twenty-five clerks from the National Bank Redemption Bureau of the Treasury Department. It is charged that they were discharged for political reasons, being all Democrats. The fact is however, that their politics were not taken into consideration by Treasurer Gilfillan, who discharged them simply because they were not needed. Last year about this time he discharged fifteen people from the same bureau. There is money enough appropriated for the pay of these clerks, but that does not prevent Mr. Gilfillan from conducting his department on business principles. The discharge of the clerks will make a saving of about $30,000 a year to the Government.

THE WISCONSIN GOVERNORSHIP.

The friends of Alexander Mitchell, of Wisconsin, who was formerly member of Congress, and is one of the richest men in the West, have received advices from him since his arrival in London, and say that he will be compelled to decline the nomination for Governor of Wisconsin, tendered to him by the Democratic State convention. His reasons for declining the nomination are that he does not wish to place the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway corporation, of which he is president, in any antagonism to the Republican granger interests in that State. There have been indications this fall of another assault upon the above-named corporation through the legislature, which is Republican.

Mr. Mitchell has hitherto pursued a somewhat conservative policy in politics, and he, together with the largest stockholders of the road, particularly wish to keep out of active politics in order not to make enemies in the legislature for that corporation, which has only just recovered from the effects of the oppressive "granger" legislation of four years ago.

REPUBLICAN ASSESSMENTS.

There was a meeting of the executive committee of the Republican Congressional campaign committee to-day. The treasurer reported that they had collected $6,000 from the treasury department, $1,400 from the war department, and from the other departments, $1,000. The interior department was the only department in which the collection of political assessments was prohibited.

STATE NEWS.

[Correspondence under this head is furnished by regular contributors to the News.]

GUILFORD.

GREENSBORO, Sept. 10.—To-night our people are much elated at the news of the honors, so deserved, conferred on our worthy citizen, Colonel John A. Gilmer, as Judge in the State courts. Anxiously have we waited to hear this glad news. He is the man who will (with great credit) fill the seat of our lamented Kerr, and will carry with him the marks of the terrible and fierce war of 1862-65; a man of natural pleasing qualities, intelligent and firm, knows well his business, and is indeed worthy to bear the name of his honored father. Short of this appointment we would not have been well satisfied; it is fitting also in the fact of being central and easy of access from all parts of the district.

To-day came near ending the life of the wife of our Superior Court Clerk, who has for some months been quite ill, but recovering, and yet requiring medicine from time to time, and as usual this A. M., was taking her quinine without special notice, when she got hold of the wrong medicine and took four grains morphine, which was not discovered for some time, but in time, however, to prevent her going to sleep, by stimulants, coffee and constantly talking to her to keep her aroused; to-night she is better, but not yet out of danger. So much for want of due attention, showing how careful one should be with drugs.

ORANGE.

CHAPEL HILL, Sept. 10.—There is really nothing of interest to report you from our quiet town.

The students are coming in and filling up the roll of the University.

Dr. Charles Phillips, his numerous friends will be sorry to know, has been but little benefited by his recent visit.

Mr. R. P. Pell has been engaged to assist Professor Mangum in the English department. Much more attention is now paid to English than formerly.

A Harvest of Death.

Atlanta Constitution, 9th.

YORKVILLE, Ga., Sept. 7.—For the past month there has been a fearful disease raging in Polk, Paulding and Haralson counties. The physicians are baffled, and the people are dying with unusual rapidity in this famously healthy section. I have asked several physicians what this disease is, and they all say they do not know. One very strange circumstance is that it attacks young men alone. But one old man has yet died. Over fifty young men in the full flush of manhood and strength have fallen victims to the terrible disease. It appears to be a sort of epidemic typhoid fever but has several symptoms different from those of regular typhoid fever. The disease is fearfully fatal. One prominent physican had twenty-nine cases and not one recovered, though all received the most careful treatment. The people here are justly terrified at the ravages of this fearful malady. Physicians hope that the approaching cool weather will check it.

LUMBERTON'S EXCITEMENT.

Peter Leach, the Murderer of Townsend, taken Suddenly Ill.

Condensed from the Robesonian, 10th.

Peter Leach, colored, who is confined in jail at Lumberton to await his trial for the murder of Sam. Townsend, was taken suddenly and seriously ill last Saturday night. Physicians were called, who after a careful examination of the sufferer, came to the conclusion that he had been poisoned. Suspicion was at once directed to his wife as the guilty party, as she had been in the habit of visiting the jail and bringing him food, and had done so on the day he was taken sick. It was on account of alleged intimacy with her that Townsend was killed, and as she has taken up with another man since Peter's incarceration, the presumption is that she has been actuated by a desire to get rid of him without awaiting for the uncertainty of the law's delay. She has been arrested, and states that one Joshua Washington was the man who gave her the cake she carried to Peter. The belief seems to be general that no hope is entertained of his being acquitted, and the poisoning of a man in jail for murder, who in all human probability, when he is taken from the jail will be marched to the gallows, and poisoned, too, by his wife, is too awful for sober reflection. If, as is alleged, she has married or taken up with another man, his present incarceration and certain death would serve the purpose of a very effectual divorce, especially when we consider the very loose state of morals among the majority of the negroes, to say nothing of the risk of conviction and punishment. The most plausible theory is that Peter and Olive as man and wife have been guilty of some gross violations of the criminal law, which she feared that the former in his last hours upon earth might divulge. But of course this is the merest conjecture.

ORATORICAL POTTS.

The Walking Widow Gives an Exhibition and a Story.

Charlotte Observer, 10th.

Mrs. Potts, after her tramp of thirty-three miles on Saturday, spent Sunday in her room resting, and scarcely showed herself on Monday. At 8 o'clock in the evening she went to the opera house, in accordance with a previous arrangement and gave an exhibition of her powers. A platform was erected across the house in front of the stage, and on this she showed the crowd how she had stepped to make the distance from Philadelphia to New Orleans and back to Charlotte. The attendance at the exhibition was only fair—not as large as was expected or as could have been desired, either by the madame or the managers. But she walked, all the same, two miles by actual measurement, in twenty-six and three-quarter minutes, and made two hundred and six turns. The audience manifested considerable interest in this proceeding, almost every one in the house who had a watch timing her at every turn.

But the exhibition did not stop here. The audience wanted her to tell what she saw, and how she did along the journey. Mrs. Potts is no orator; she would hardly claim this accomplishment herself, but she told them as well as she could of "moving accidents by flood and field and of hair-breadth escapes in the imminent deadly breach," and every one seem interested in the story, and the madame satisfied with her share of the receipts, which was $10, exactly $9.85 more than she made by a similar exhibition in Atlanta.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning, she left Charlotte, in excellent trim, intending only to make Concord last night. A party followed her up the road a little way and reported on their return that she made the first mile in ten minutes, and when last seen was increasing her speed.

NO LAGGING THERE.

Charlotte Observer, 11th.

Potts is stepping along just as usual, saluting the railroad men with that same sweet smile, and looking the very picture of the "Nut-brown Maid." The 11.20 passenger train passed her yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, just thirty miles from Charlotte. Henry Whitsitt gave the "Potts blow" when he saw her coming in sight and Dodson brought all the passengers out to take a look at her. She sent word to the Observer that she was wearing blue that day, and bade them all adieu. She expected to reach Salisbury last night, Thomasville to-night, and Greensboro to-morrow night—93 miles in four days, and still going. The rooster feather still stands erect in the weather-beaten straw hat and points to the South. Brave and glorious Potts!

Spartanburg and Asheville Railroad.

Charlotte Observer, 11th.

The Hendersonville Courier, remarking upon the fact that Judge Dick has referred all the matters in controversy between the contractors and creditors of the Spartanburg & Asheville Railroad, and the bondholders of the said road, to Captain Armstead Burwell, of this city, calls attention to the fact that all persons having claims against the said corporation are notified to present them to Captain Burwell on or before the 1st of October, and says: "A report then will be made to the United States Court at its regular term, at Charlotte, in December. Either party then can except to the report. If there are no exceptions, the controversy will be speedily settled, and the completion of the Spartanburg & Asheville railroad to Asheville assured. If there are exceptions the case goes to the Supreme Court of the United States, Hendersonville will be the terminus of the road for many years to come."

Hand Cut Off.

Charlotte Observer, 11th.

Last evening Mr. Lewis Kirk, car inspector of the Air-Line Railroad, was kneeling by the side of the track at the junction, examining a car, one hand between the two wheels of the rear truck, when a sudden movement of the train caught the hand under a wheel, which passed over it, crushing the bones in such a manner that amputation was necessary. Dr. Jo. Graham performed the operation.

An East End View.

New Berne Democrat.

We have always thought that a through line from the mountains to the sea was worthy at least of a trial. It was the dream of the lives of some of our greatest minds, and we think it is but right to test the wisdom of their dreams. Let us not cast discredit on the scheme by predicting its failure in advance; let us do nothing to clog it, or balk it, but let us give it a fair trial, and if it is a failure, then let us have done with it forever, and if it is a success, let us give credit, where the credit is due.

THE SEA SERPENT AGAIN.

A NORWEGIAN BARK SUNK BY A SEA MONSTER.

Another Chance for Excitable Interviewers to give to the World a Thrilling Statement.

New York World, 10th.

The Rotterdam steamship P. Caland, which arrived at this port yesterday afternoon, brought Captain Larsen and eleven men, the crew of the Norwegian bark Columbia, which was sunk September 4th on the voyage from London to Quebec in the following remarkable circumstances: The bark was sailing at the rate of about six miles an hour before a light northeast wind under a clear sky. The time was 11 A. M., September 4th, the place latitude 47 longitude 43, which is off the Grand Banks of Newfoundland. Suddenly the ship stopped as if she had struck a rock and the crew were thrown off their feet. Captain Larsen says he thought at first that the Columbia had run into a sunken vessel or a heavy piece of floating timber, but on looking over the guards he discovered about sixty feet of the white belly of some sort of sea monster lying about motionless by the ship's side, while the surrounding water was deeply tinged with blood. He could not see enough of the creature to make out whether it was an immense sword-fish, a whale, the legendary sea-serpent or some other unheard of terror of the deep. A minute examination of the creature was prevented by the cry raised by some of the crew that the ship was rapidly filling.

The captain hurried below and found that the blow had been received "end on," the entire bow of the ship had been stove in and that foundering was inevitable. The crew had barely time to launch the two long boats and get away with a stock of provisions and a short supply of water when the Columbia went down head foremost. About 2 P. M. of the same day the crew were picked up by the P. Calend. The Columbia was an old ship, but about two years ago was put on the stocks and thoroughly replanked. Her bow was made of solid 4½ inch oak planking.

The captain said to the reporter that the only case of a ship's collision with a sea monster he had heard of was a legend of the early Dutch voyagers to the East Indies. One of these Dutch ships struck violently one day in the open sea not far from the Island of St. Helena, and the crew saw the water around the ship covered with blood. The ship, however, did not sink and after her return from India it was found in overhauling her that a piece of horny substance, probably a sword-fish's sword, was sticking into her bow.

"This, however," added the captain, "I have always before this regarded as a myth."

It will be remembered that in the fall of 1876 the Cunarder Scythia just after leaving the harbor of Queenstown was disabled by breaking her propeller on a whale.

It will be remembered also that the half-sunken schooner Waldoboro has been drifting for the last eight months towards the Grand Banks. If it were not for the blood of the sea monster and his white belly, the Waldoboro might be reckoned as an agent in this last mishap.

THE SINGING WATERMELON.

The Strange Noises That Watermelons make During the Night.

Virginia (Nev.) Chronicle.

There is a watermelon market on North C street, near the city jail, where are stored at present about 600 melons. This house does a wholesale and retail business. The sight of a big floor covered with 600 melons is something novel. Every night they are sprinkled with water to keep them cool.

Curiously enough every night these melons get up a colicky sort of a concert, which is worth listening to for once. The melon is very sensitive to the influence of heat and cold, and when the temperature lowers at night they all begin to manifest their appreciation of the change. After being sprinkled the effect is still more apparent. The rind contracts with the cold, and inside there is a sort of vegetable heat which tends to expand the fruit. The compression of the outer rind produces a low crackling noise, which is not perceptible in a single melon, but when several hundred are ranged side by side the chorus becomes quite loud. The men who are employed about the place say that they sit sometimes for an hour listening to the strange murmur of the melons. They seem to be whispering to each other. At times there is a lull in the conversation and a silence, and then a couple of hundred will break forth at once, conversing, as it were, with each other across the hall in a sort of unintelligible babble. Occasionally a melon will burst while the babble is in progress. The night must be very still to enable the ear to catch the sounds arising from the fruit.

Who knows but that there may be a vegetable vocabulary, and that these miserable melons may be bemoaning their fate in being plucked from the smiling fields of California—where the breezes are cool, and the air is alive with birds and butterflies—to be hustled across the mountains to the bleak wilderness of the Comstock. How they must miss the fragrance of the new mown hay, the gleaming dewdrops upon the morning-glories and the balmy perfume of Denis Kearney's breath.

Improvements at New Berne.

New Berne Democrat, 10th.

Workmen are now busily engaged in driving down the piling, upon which Captain Gray proposes building a pier for the accommodation of the Baltimore steamers. From present indications, this will be, when completed, the handsomest and most commodious pier in the city. We learn it is the intention to cover the entire pier with one huge shed, if this is so, it will be the best appointed wharf in the State, as the steamers can deliver their freights in all weather, dry and in perfect order. This wharf and shed will be a great convenience, and will add very materially to the good appearance of the city in that locality.

The Chisholm Murder Trial.

DE KALB, Miss., September 10.—The State at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon rested its case in the trial of Henry J. Gully for the murder of Cornelia Chisholm. The object of the prosecution has been to establish a conspiracy on the part of the defendant and others to kill Chisholm, Gilmer and Rosenbaum, and that in carrying it into effect they killed Cornelia and other parties. An attempt was made to show that on the night after the burial of John W. Gully a meeting of the conspirators was held at the gin house of John Gully to mature plans for carrying the conspiracy into effect, but the State's own witnesses proved the object of that meeting to be nothing more than to discuss the practicability of a body of citizens going to DeKalb the following day to assist in the arrest of Chisholm and others charged with the murder of John W. Gully, should they resist and assistance be necessary.

On this point the State gained no strength. Among the declarations made after the killing of Chisholm, going to a show a conspiracy, was a declaration by the defendant that "We have done what we come to do, and if there is hanging to be done, here is my neck." The testimony of the defense has tended to contradict some of the material statements of witnesses for the prosecution as to the firing in the jail, who shot Cornelia and Judge Chisholm, what parties in the crowd had guns, the actions of defendant in jail during the firing, and the relative positions of all the parties. One of the jurymen, C. C. Stewart, has been ill since the adjournment last night, and on his account it has been impossible to proceed with the trial to-day. It is hoped he will recover sufficiently this afternoon to allow the cause to proceed. The defense has a number of witnesses to testify on the other points brought out by the prosecution. The argument will probably begin to-morrow.

Political Talk.

Washington Star, 10th.

General Thomas Keogh, chairman of the North Carolina Republican State executive committee, made a flying visit to Washington from New York city to-day. For a month or more General Keogh has made headquarters at the Fifth Avenue hotel in New York, and quite recently was among the politicians at Saratoga. He says that just now the New York Democracy is considerably agitated as to what Tilden will do with the Democratic convention, which meets in Syracuse to-day. He says that a great many Democrats think that at the last minute Tilden will desert Governor Robinson and throw the weight of his influence for the nomination of Clarkson N. Potter for Governor. Concerning Presidential booms General Keogh says that there is but little talk of Secretary Sherman now in New York as a Presidential candidate, but that the sentiment is fast crystallizing toward Grant with Blaine as a strong second choice.

General Clingman's Narrow Escape.

Asheville Journal, 10th.

General Clingman is in town, having just returned from a visit to the Warm Springs. A friend laughingly asked him recently why he had never married. "Well," said the General, "it happened in this way; When I was in Congress years ago, I used to have a sweetheart in Washington. One night, while there, I thought I would go around, see her, tell her how much I liked her and ask her to be my wife. I did so, that is I went round, saw her, and was on the point of popping the question when I was interrupted by a colleague who had come around to ask me about a matter relative to a bill to be passed in Congress the following day. I got up, became so interested in what he had to tell me, that I forgot all about the young lady and what I had come to see her about, and," concluded the General, laughing, "I never had the courage to renew my overtures."

Splitting a Snake.

Whitehall Times.

"Pshaw," said Czardine, as he seated himself in the Times sanctum, "the snake stories that are going about are all too thin. Why just look here. Last spring I went out into the woods. I took along an umbreller, which I laid down onto some rocks. Well, sir, about an hour afterward I went to get my umbreller, as it had begun to rain a little. I took holt of the handle, and, as I give it a shove, something begun to tear, and as the umbreller flew open a live black snake fell to the ground, split in two from its head to its tail. The confounded critter had actually swallered my umbreller, and I never noticed it until I shoved up the dumb thing and split the animile open from stem to stern."

Paid in Full.

Winston Sentinel.

When General Jackson first went to the bar Surry was one of the counties where he attended court. Rockford was at that time the county seat, and the last time Jackson attended court there he did not make money enough to pay his tavern and whisky bill, and went off and left it unsettled. For several years the account for so many days' board and so many quarts of whisky stood on the old man Luster's books unsettled. About a month after the battle of New Orleans the old man entered under the account as a credit—"Paid in full by the battle of New Orleans."

The book, with this entry was, until a few years ago, in the possession of F. K. Armstrong, of Rockford, who finally moved to Missouri and carried it with him.

Another Relic.

Lynchburg (Va.) News.

Mr. James B. Boley, who lives near Otterville, in Bedford county, has a watch in his possession, which evidently belonged to George Washington, as it has the initials "G. W., 1777," engraved on the inside of the case. There is no date on the watch to show when it was made, but is undoubtedly a very ancient time-piece. It is a very large silver watch of the old style. Mr. Boley has had it about five years. Competent silversmiths who have examined the watch are of the opinion that it was Washington's; as no data is on record showing whatever became of the watch belonging to the father of his country.

Cleaned Out.

New Berne Nut Shell, 11th.

On Tuesday last Carr Richardson, colored, was tried before Esq. Hill, charged with having stolen almost the entire patch of James White's corn near Lane's Branch. Richardson was found guilty and sent to jail to await trial at next term of Superior Court. John Roe, colored, was shortly after tried for stealing what corn Richardson left in White's field, and being found guilty gave bond for his appearance at Superior Court. Poor White has been "cleaned out" and will have to buy corn.

Cotton in Duplin.

Wilmington Review, 10th.

In conversation with Colonel W. E. Hill, of Duplin county, a week or two since, he reported the condition of the cotton crop of his section as above the average, and we published it. In a very brief interview held with the same gentleman last evening, he informed us that the continued recent rains had materially changed the crop prospects, the bolls having fallen off to a considerable extent, and that in consequence, the cotton yield will be about one-fourth less in that county than was anticipated.

A Boston wife softly attached a pedometer to her husband when, after supper, he started to go down to the office and balance the books. On his return fifteen miles of walking was recorded. He had been stepping around a billiard table all the evening.

WAKE NICODEMUS.

THE PARADISE THAT THE SOUTHERN NEGROES ENTERED.

The Kansas Negro Colony---A Deplorable Statement of Want and Misery---A Bitter Disappointment.

Lemars (Ia.) Sentinel.

I stated in my last letter that we had visited the negro colony in Graham county, Kansas, and would write you a letter concerning it. This I will now endeavor to do.

Nicodemus is situated on the north Solomon river, in Graham county. The country to the north of it is quite level, and appears to have a fertile soil—more so, at least, than parts of joining counties. To the west the land is more broken, and appears to be not so well adapted for agriculture. On the east is the gentle-flowing Solomon, and bordering on its banks are the sylvan shades wherein lies the dusky child from the land of the brigadiers through the sultry hours of day, away from the cares of life and free from the burning rays of old Sol. To the south the land is a slightly-undulating prairie, intersected here and there by a few minor streams.

But it is not the country that arrests the eye of the tourist, it is the inhabitants. As the history of this colony is familiar to all, I deem it unnecessary to repeat it here. Driven from their once beloved Southland, by sheer starvation, the negro endeavored to find a home in the wilds of Kansas.

They had always imagined that when they came to Kansas they would be provided for, and should receive here land, horses and implements gratis, but their disappointment can be better imagined than described when they found naught save a wild and unsettled country. Their condition at present is shocking. Having raised nothing the present year, and no money in pocket, work scarce, and ignorance, combined with indolence, it is evident that many shall die this year from famine unless they receive aid. And while I am now speaking of aid it may not be out of place to say a few words relative to the manner in which Parson N—— did his begging last year. Their condition, as all know, was desperate, and our beloved brother conceived the idea of going to the whites and obtaining from them nourishment for their dark brethren. The whites gave with a free hand, but our saintly parson, instead of dividing it among his famished people, retained it all and sold it out to these who were able to buy, and those who were not, received none. When the doings were found out, Mr. Parson narrowly escaped a coat of tar and feathers.

A majority of the people are ignorant; they have, however, in their midst two of the smartest lawyers in Kansas, but they are of no benefit to them, for when engaged in a lawsuit with the whites, the case is carried to Rrooks county (as there is no court in Graham county) and the Justices almost invariably decide against them. But as yet I have not spoken of the dwellings, if such I may call them, of the niggers. Doubtless many of you have seen a prairie-dog town; if you have, then you have seen a town similar to Nicodemus.

As you drive along the road, or street, you can see here and there a black woolly head stick up, but the moment you approach it it is gone, and you have passed a negro dwelling. Many of the houses are not noticeable until you are fairly before them, and in some places we have undoubtedly driven over them, unaware that we were driving over the home of a human being.

But, although the outside has a hard-looking appearance, yet it is nothing when compared with the inside. One that we entered was the most dismal-looking receptacle that I ever saw, having nothing but a couple of logs and a few shovelfuls of dirt to constitute the roof; through this the rain might pour in torrents. The furniture consisted of a three-legged stool and an old rickety bedstead, while the wearing apparel was nothing save filthy rags patched together to cover their naked forms. Within this hovel we counted fifteen dirty, half-starved little negroes, of ages varying from one year to eighteen.

We have been asked by some of those little darkies if we would not give to them our horse-feed; this was all in a great many cases they had to live upon, —the horse-feed they could beg from travelers as they passed through their colony.

How they can live through the winter God alone knows. There are from three hundred to four hundred souls, with but one horse team to work for them all.

Unless they receive some beneficence, disease and famine will undoubtedly carry off half of their numbers, and it seems to me that in this great Republic, where charity is preached to such a great extent, no where can it be given more worthily than to the negro colony in Graham county, Kansas.

General Hood and the South.

Washington Republican (Rep.).

There is something really and commendably pathetic in the quick response of the Confederate soldiery to General Hood's dying request that his former comrades in arms should provide for the welfare of his orphan children. It illustrates the true and knightly instincts of the South, and is noteworthy for that reason as redeeming to some extent the reputation of a section wherein so much that is black and damnable is done in the name of chivalry.

Miss Penney was saved from drowning by Jonathan Smith. In equity she belongs to Smith from this time hereafter, because a Penney saved is a Penney earned.

Be wise and happy.

If you will stop all your extravagant and wrong notions in doctoring yourself and families with expensive doctors or humbug cure-alls, that do harm always, and use only nature's simple remedies for all your ailments—you will be wise, well and happy, and save great expense. The greatest remedy for this, the great, wise and good will tell you, is Hop Bitters—rely on it. See another column.

DAILY NEWS

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER - 12, 1879.

SPEAKING of Cornell's nomination, and his chances of election, the New York Herald says: "It is a case in which the old adage, 'all baggage at the risk of the owner,' applies with a good deal of force."

IT has been estimated by experts that the stock of gold in this country has increased fully $150,000,000 during the last four years from the products of our mines alone, and silver production is now in excess of gold. It is believed that we have, including the gold in the Treasury, pretty nearly $300,000,000 of that metal, so that we are not at all depending on imports of gold from Europe.

A CONVENTION of Liberals will be held in Cincinnati on the 13th and 14th of this month for the purpose of "giving the Liberals of the United States an opportunity of consulting as to the propriety of taking political action." This action is in order that "Free Speech, Free Thought, Free Ballot, and Free Mails, may be secured by a Secular Republic Emancipated from Church Domination." The call for the Convention is made by Hon. Elizur Wright, President of the National Liberal League.

ON the first page will be found an article taken from the Lemars Sentinel, the rabid Stalwart paper of the North, setting forth the condition of the negroes in Kansas, stating that "their condition is shocking." The account is probably correct, for certainly the Sentinel cannot be charged with opposing the improvement of the colored race. We reproduce the article that it may serve as a warning to those who are inclined to listen to the exhorations of the interested agents now traveling through the State not to be misled into a movement that will confer nothing but certain future misery.

A REMARKABLE number of fire insurance companies have withdrawn from business within a few weeks. One by one companies have been dropping off for several years, but recently two or three withdrawals have been announced in a single day. About one hundred fire insurance companies are said to have retired from business during the last five years. The process of thinning out has already produced perceptible results upon the business of the companies which remain, but the process is likely to continue until the number is reduced to a point which will leave the surviving companies business enough at remunerative rates to yield a fair income.

PRIOR to the war Cotton was considered as King. On that assertion the South laid much stress; it was also true in the main. The manufacturing interests of the large cities of Britain depended on the South's great staple for existence. Attempts were made in the English East Indian possessions to start the enterprise of raising cotton in that dependency, thereby intending to control the trade without reference to the United States, and at the same time affording remunerative labor to the Queen's subjects. Now let us sum up the results: Cotton-growing is assuming large dimensions in the Central Asiatic provinces of Russia, reaching yearly at present more than 50,000,000 kilogrammes, which is partly utilized in local industries, and partly finds its way to Russia, which again returns a considerable proportion in the shape of cotton fabrics. As the northern boundary of the cotton zone in Turkestan, the valley of the river Arys is usually taken. This valley lies between the 30th and 40th parallels of latitude, a belt equivalent as the geographical lines run to the section extending from Washington to New Orleans inclusive, but the thermal line reaches a higher latitude. But in addition, in the region around Tashkend, a place closely on the line with New York city, a considerable quantity of cotton is grown, which ripens about October. In these regions the American cotton also flourishes; yet in spite of repeated attempts to introduce its culture, it has made but little headway. Still better than the cotton of Tashkend and Kojend is the Bokharian cotton, which by the careful attention to the plantations is said to approach the American kinds in quality. The largest crops of cotton are obtained in Khiva, the smallest in the northern cities of the Turkestan region. This does not augur well for the English idea, and although "Cotton is King," we can by proper enterprise make the sovereignty stronger than ever. We must manufacture. "A word to the wise," etc.

A BID FOR TRADE.

Atlanta is jubilant over the success of the free excursion of Carolina merchants to that city, about two hundred and fifty having accepted the invitation. The published list of names shows quite a goodly number from North Carolina, representing Charlotte, King's Mountain, Reidsville, etc. By referring to the railroad maps it will be seen that Atlanta is not near as accessible as Raleigh for State trade, and yet the Georgia city promises to capture it. So much for enterprise.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The story runs that Vice-President Wheeler thinks the Republican machine in New York will be the death of its leader, and that Conkling's greatest victory will be his last.

The Philadelphia Times prints a list of 44 persons who have been "mentioned" for the next presidency, including twelve senators, six representatives, three cabinet officers, three governors and two journalists.

The report comes from the Democrats in Ohio that the suspended animation of the party in that State is to cease September 20th, and from that time on the canvass is to have no rest.

Before this time, if the New York papers were metropolitan instead of provincial, one of them would have sent a special correspondent to Yazoo county, Miss., and got the truth of the Dixon murder. On the face of the facts, it was a political murder, but many things show that Dixon was a violent man sure to die in his boots some day; another independent has been nominated, and a well accredited report says that he stands an excellent chance of carrying the county.—Springfield Republican.

The Trial of Gully and its Political Influence.

New York Sun.

If Henry Gully, now on trial in Mississippi, and his associates in the murder of the Chisholm family, escape justice through the potency of political sympathy, the effect on the next Presidential election, in favor of the Republican ticket, will not be small.

One of the most powerful influences operating to keep the Republican party in power consists in the impression they succeed in keeping up that the lives and property of Republicans in the old slave States would not be secure under a Democratic Administration. The escape of Democratic murderers, where the evidences against them seems conclusive, and where the victims were Republicans, goes far to sustain this belief.

No Republican orator can speak half so eloquently for his cause as the gaping wounds of the murdered Chisholms, unless they are avenged.

A Jenkins Boom.

Charlotte Observer.

The talk about ex-State Treasurer Jenkins in connection with the Republican nomination for Governor next year, has begun to assume something of the complexion of a boom in the embryonic state. Whether it will ever acquire such proportions as to have a devastating influence upon the aspirations of others, would not be for us to say even if we knew, as we do not; but as the faithful chronicler we are compelled to record that Gaston's "favorite son" is certainly the proprietor of a boom—large or small we leave it for others to say. But several Republican newspapers, and correspondents of several others, have urged the nomination of Mr. Jenkins for Governor next year on the Republican ticket, and so much notoriety has the movement acquired that the Washington Republican has felt constrained to put in its lip.

It Does Make a Difference.

Baltimore Gazette.

"God bless California!" shouts the frantic Republican organ, the Columbus (O.) Journal. We observe that it is quite common to drag the Deity into politics whenever there is a Republican victory, but we would like to have a Republican editor's opinion of an All-wise Providence the day following a State election in Kentucky.

Grant and His Chronicle.

New York News.

It is somewhat indelicate in General Grant, after having disclaimed all thought of being a candidate for the Presidency, to carry around the world with him a stipendiary newspaper correspondent to chronicle his progress and keep his name constantly before the people as a probable Presidential candidate. No other ex-President has ever resorted to such empiricism. Why should it not be discountenanced and condemned in General Grant's case?

The New York Campaign.

Buffalo Courier.

There are fifty thousand voters standing between the two great parties who will not vote for Cornell unless the Syracuse convention, by some gross blunder, shall compel them to do so. Against a united Democracy, bearing the banner that Tilden gave it in 1874, and that Robinson has upheld since 1876, Mr. Cornell and his ticket would go down to sure and overwhelming defeat.

Would be more Consistent.

Washington Post.

It is well enough to make a stir about moonshining by the gallon in the Southern mountains. Let it be broken up. But all this fuss would be more consistent if there were less of public robbery going on here in Washington in and about the departments, and by the men who are paid to care for the very property which they steal. We don't allude to the watchmen, but to officials of much higher grade.

Locks of Hair from the Heads of the Presidents.

New York Telegram.

In the Patent Office at Washington there are many objects of interest connected with the government, and those who administered its affairs in times gone by. While examining those objects of curiosity nothing struck us so forcibly as the samples of small locks of hair taken from the heads of different Chief Magistrates, from Washington down to President Pierce, secured in a frame covered with glass. Here is, in fact, a part and parcel of what constituted the living bodies of those illustrious individuals whose names are as familiar as household words, but who now live only in history and the remembrance of the past.

The hair of Washington is nearly a pure white, fine and smooth in its appearance.

That of John Adams is nearly the same in color, though perhaps a little coarser.

The hair of Jefferson is of a different character, being a mixture of white and auburn, or a sandy brown, and rather coarse. In his youth Mr. Jefferson's hair was remarkable for its bright color.

The hair of Madison is coarse and of a mixed white and dark.

The hair of Monroe is of a handsome auburn, smooth and free from any mixture. He is the only ex-President, excepting Pierce, whose hair has undergone no change in color.

The hair of John Quincy Adams is somewhat peculiar, being coarse and of a yellowish gray in color.

The hair of General Jackson is almost perfectly white, but coarse in its character, as might be supposed by those who have examined the portraits of the old hero.

The hair of Van Buren is white and smooth in appearance.

The hair of General Harrison is a fine white, with a slight mixture of black.

The hair of John Tyler is a mixture of white and brown.

The hair of James K. Polk is almost a pure white.

The hair of General Taylor is white, with a slight mixture of brown.

The hair of Millard Fillmore is, on the other hand, brown with a slight mixture of white.

The hair of Franklin Pierce is a dark brown, of which he had a plentiful crop.

It is somewhat remarkable, however, that since Pierce's time no one has thought of preserving the hair of his successors. There are vacancies in the case; but there is no hair either of Buchanan, Lincoln, Johnson or Grant for the inspection of futurity.

A Gross Fraud.

New York Sun.

John M. Langston, the minister to Hayti, is earning his salary of $5,000 a year by stumping Ohio for Foster or rather for John Sherman, who appears to be his favorite for the Presidency. The Hartford Times calls attention to that fact that, although Langston has held the office of Minister to Hayti for over two years, he has spent but three months at the post of duty. Such instances go to prove that the diplomatic service is not only a gross humbug, but likewise a gross fraud.

The Best Evidence.

The following letter from Rev. E. S. Best, Pastor of M. E. Church, Natick, Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians; also those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of the Rev. E. S. Best. No person can doubt this testimony, as there is no doubt about the curative powers of Vegetine.

NATICK, MASS., Jan. 1, 1874.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir, We have good reason for regarding your Vegetine a medicine of the greatest value. We feel assured that it has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from necrosis of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so far reduced that nearly all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his ever rallying; two of the number declaring that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even amputation could not save him, as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. Just then we commenced giving him Vegetine, and from that time to the present he has been continuously improving. He has lately resumed his studies, thrown away his crutches and cane, and walks about cheerfully and strong.

Though there is still some discharge from the opening where the limb was lanced, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.

He has taken about three dozen bottles of Vegetine, but lately uses but little, as he declares that he is too well to be taking medicine.

Respectfully yours,
E. S. BEST,
MRS. L. C. F. BEST.

LIVER PILLS

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

GOSSIP FOR THE LADIES.

Flirtation.

'Twas first at Bedford's Spring we met
And quaffed its sparkling waters;
And I, enamored fool, bethough
Her loveliest of Eve's daughters.

We danced and sang together oft;
And sat in the pavilion
And gazed and talked, nor cared if we
Were stared at by a million.

We roamed the hills and valleys, saw
Ant hills and open vistas;
Our fondness though sometimes subdued
By nearness of her sisters.

At length I had a chance to say
I loved her truly, dearly;
She was an angel: life was nought
Without her! She looked queerly,

And laughed and twirled her fan, and said:
"The truth I must not smother;
But, Phil., I thought you knew I am
Engaged to wed your brother!"

Cuticura

REMEDIES

Have speedily and permanently cured Humors of the Skin and Scalp of Children and Infants afflicted since birth.

The treatment prescribed in such cases is mild doses of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a perfectly safe yet powerful blood purifier, and the external use of CUTICURA, the great skin cure. The CUTICURA SOAP should be the only soap applied to the diseased skin for cleansing purposes.

Humor on a Child

Since Birth Cured, after faithful Medical Treatment had failed.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—My little son, two years of age, has had a humor on one side of his face since he was born, which during the last four months has spread over the entire side of the face, the child ear, and side of the head. It must have itched and irritated him a great deal, as he scratched the surface all the time, no matter what was applied. I used many remedies by advice of friends and my physician without benefit until I found CUTICURA, which immediately allayed the itching and inflammation, and entirely cured him. Respectfully, JOHN L. SURRY.
With Walworth Manufacturing Co.
BOSTON, April 15, 1878.

NOTE. Once cured, the skin may be rendered soft and fair by using the Cuticura Soap exclusively for toilet or nursery purposes.

CHILDREN AND INFANTS.

More Cures of Skin and Scalp Affections by the Cuticura Remedies.

Fred. Rohrer, Esq., Cashier Stock Growers' National Bank, Pueblo, Colorado, writes: "I am so well pleased with its effects on my baby, that I cannot afford to be without it in my house. It is a wonderful cure, and is bound to become very popular as soon as its virtues are known to the masses."

J. S. Weeks, Esq., Town Treasurer, St. Albans, Vt., says in a letter dated May 28: "It works to a charm on my baby's face and head. Cured the head entirely, and has nearly cleaned the face of sores. I have recommend it to several, and Dr. Plaut has ordered it for them."

M. M. Chick, Esq., 41 Franklin St., Boston, says: "My little daughter, eighteen months old, has what the doctors call Eczema. We have tried 'most everything, and at last have used CUTICURA, and she is almost a new child, and we feel very happy."

Prickly Heat.

Incidental to the Texan Climate.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—Enclosed please find one dollar for a large box of CUTICURA. The small one that I received some time ago has been very efficacious, especially in Prickly Heat or Rash, as some people call it. I am noising it about.
Yours truly, THOMAS W. BUCKLEY.
MASON, Texas, Sept. 22, 1878.

CUTICURA is a most valuable external application. It heals all cuts, bruises, and abrasions of the skin, restores the hair when destroyed by scalp diseases, removes dandruff and keeps the scalp clean and the hair soft and pliable. It is as agreeable as it is effective, and is ably assisted, in every case by the CUTICURA SOAP, which is particularly recommended to mothers for cleansing the skin and scalp of infants and children. It is Toilet as well as Medicinal, and is the most fragrant and refreshing Soap for the nursery and bath of any these prepared.

Parents have our assurance that these remedies contain nothing injurious to the youngest infant, evidence of which may be found in the certificates of Dr. Hayes and Prof. Merrick accompanying each remedy.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of Cuticura, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. Cuticura Soap, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cents.

TUTT'S PILLS

SYMPTOMS OF A
TORPID LIVER.

Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Pain in the Head, with a dull sensation in the back part, Pain under the shoulderblade, fullness after eating, with a disinclination to exertion of body or mind, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, with a feeling of having neglected some duty, Weariness, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, Yellow Skin, Headache generally over the right eye, Restlessness with fitful dreams, highly colored Urine.

IF THESE WARNINGS ARE UNHEEDED, SERIOUS DISEASES WILL SOON BE DEVELOPED.

TUTT'S PILLS are especially adapted to such cases, one dose effects such a change of feeling as to astonish the sufferer.

CONSTIPATION.

Only with regularity of the bowels can perfect health be enjoyed. If the constipation is of recent date, a single dose of TUTT'S PILLS will suffice, but if it has become habitual, one pill should be taken every night, gradually lessening the frequency of the dose until a regular daily movement is obtained, which will soon follow.

Dr. I. Guy Lewis, Fulton, Ark., says:
"After a practice of 25 years, I pronounce TUTT'S PILLS the best anti-bilious medicine ever made."

Rev. F. R. Osgood, New York, says:
"I have had Dyspepsia, Weak Stomach and Nervousness. I never had any medicine to do me so much good as TUTT'S PILLS. They are as good as represented."

STOMACH BITTERS

Fever and Ague is most common in the spring, but most severe in the fall and winter. It is strictly a malarious disease, and so surely as the Bitters are adopted, so surely will the individual who adopts this precaution be exempted from its pains and penalties. Add to this its value as a stomachic and anti-bilious agent and who will venture to gainsay its claims to the first place among family medicines.

FAIR COMMITTEE—Notice.
COL. I. J. YOUNG—Notice.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Go to Tucker Hall to-night.

——Clothiers announce an era of returning prosperity.

——The dry goods trade is "shooting ahead" charmingly.

——Pale tints predominate in "regulation" note paper.

——Just the weather for base ball, and the payments of debts.

——Yesterday's revenue receipts amounted to $1,718.54.

——Hon. Joseph J. Davis left for his home in Franklin yesterday.

——Senator Vance left the city yesterday. He is bound for Kansas.

——The officers of the Y. K. of T. meet to-night at Temperance Hall.

—— Merchants anticipate an important increase over last fall's business.

——W. N. Snellings was yesterday appointed guardian of Henry T. Hicks.

——$53,000 of old bonds received for exchange at the State Treasury yesterday.

——A soft smooth surface is seen on all the "stylish" dress fabrics this season.

——A large scarf shaped like a horse shoe is a recent addition to gentlemen's wear.

——The cotton season is opening; quite a number of bales in the city yesterday.

——Colonel A. B. Andrews has been confined to his house for several days by severe indisposition.

——None of the cases before Justice Barbee yesterday partook of a criminal nature.

——Walter G. Wilson & Co., of Philadelphia, yesterday took out a drummer's license for this State.

——Col. Walter Clark returned yesterday from his trip to Arkansas where he has been on legal businss.

——Hon. D. L. Yulee, of Florida, who has been stopping at the National for several days, left for the North yesterday.

——Brick are being hauled for the erection of an addition to the back of Royster & Brother's store on Fayetteville street.

——Major Bagley leaves for Baltimore this morning to attend the Odd Fellow's convention. His lady will accompany him.

——Keep your pistols where no officer can see them, or get you a belt and buckle them where everyone will be sure and see them.

——John J. Dunn yesterday appeared before Probate Judge Upchurch, and qualified as Justice of the Peace for Neuse River township.

——Mr. J. H. Mills, superintendent of the Orphan Asylum, yesterday drew $1,000 from the State Treasury, being the remainder due that institution by appropriation of the Legislature.

——W. M. Sorrell, Esq., of Cary, was in town yesterday, and entered the "Sorrell Gin" for exhibition at the State fair. These cotton gins are made at Cary, our next door neighbor.

——An authority on matters in the fashionable world says: "Sealskin will be made into dolmans this year. The garments will be bordered with silver otter and lined with scarlet or old gold."

——Alexander Burton, colored, is charged with counterfeiting money. He patiently awaiteth his trial before Commissioner Purnell. In the meantime he languisheth in the county jail.

——George Bleckie, "Isq.," No. 75 Nassau street, New York, has a letter directed to him in the post office at this place, where it is likely to remain awhile, unless he or his correspondent prepays the postage.

——Davy Jones, an old offender, is the latest arrival reported at the county bunking house. Davy is not at all out of his sphere here; in fact it seems to be the most appropriate place for his ugly looks and saucy tongue, imaginable.

——Miss Patience Davis, Mont Clair, N. J., has a Raleigh correspondent who only seems willing to pay one cent to send a letter six hundred miles. Miss Davis will doubtless be called upon to exercise a good deal of "patience" before she receives that letter.

——The Young Knights of Temperance will give a dime party next Friday night. They propose to devote the proceeds to the aid of the yellow fever sufferers. These are a clever body of young gentlemen and should be encouraged in all their undertakings.

——It seems that the people on the line of the R. & G. R. R. have gone into the baptising business on a large scale. A letter from Kittrells says, that thirty were baptised at Mount Moriah church, on the second Sunday in August; 56 on the fifth Sunday, at Kittrells; 60 at Oxford on the fifth Sunday, and 46 at another place in Granville. In all, one hundred and ninety-two, all in one county. Granville is ahead. Next.

——The grape season is here, and Fayetteyille street is lined with hulls. Some people have no consideration; on knowing what a propensity scuppernong grape hulls have for throwing people down, they would exercise a little care by depositing their hulls in the gutter or road, instead of upon the pavements of the sidewalks. A fleshy lady of about 200 pounds was seen "manfully" struggling with one of those little nuisances yesterday for about five minutes before she recovered her balance. The attention of Billy Carter is respectfully directed to this matter.

Illicit Distillery Captured.

Colonel Young yesterday received a dispatch from W. D. Moore (one of his deputies), from Cameron, that he had captured a large illicit distillery, the property of A. C. McDonald and John Moore, of Cameron. The seizure was made night before last.

Good Templars.

We learn from V. Ballard, Grand Worthy Secretary, that this order is materially advancing. New lodges are being constantly formed and old ones reorganized, and a strong temperance sentiment is being formed all over the State.

The Templeton Troupe.

This company will open the theatrical season at Tucker Hall to-night, when they will present "Prince Napoleon, or the Fatal Field in Zululand." To-morrow afternoon they will give a grand matinee, when all the children, especially, and ladies should attend,

To-morrow night they present "Pinafore," This company embraces four of the original Pinafore artists, and every one attending may expect to see this play done up in the best imaginable style. It is unnecessary to speak at length upon the merits of this company just now.

The Templeton Troupe have often performed before Raleigh audiences, and the name "Templeton" itself never fails to fill the hall. Give them a crowded house to-night.

The First Shipment.

The NEWS learns that the first large shipment of new cotton was made from here yesterday to New York. One hundred bales were shipped by Messrs. Parker & Avera. May this be but the forerunner of sixty thousand bales soon to follow.

More Convicts.

Sheriff J. F. Forst, of Currituck county, yesterday brought down Joseph Rollins and Calvin Capps, both colored, and both convicted of larceny. Sheriff J. R. Wyatt, of Alleghany county, also delivered to the penitentiary authorities one Aaron Thompson, white, also convicted of larceny.

Glass Ball Shooting.

The first contest for the gold medal, offered by the Glass Ball Gun Club, will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the old field just back of the residence of Mr. Julius Lewis. Some good shooting may be expected. It is hoped that the ladies will be present. The sport is interesting to the spectators as well as the participants therein.

Police Court.

Davy Jones, colored, was before His Honor Mayor Manly yesterday, charged with the larceny of some chickens. He could not give the required bond of $200, and was consequently turned over to the tender mercies of jailer Bryan. Billy says he ought to write a work on "Successful Thieving" during his detention in "durance vile," and even advanced the opinion that, considering the experience he is supposed to possess, he undoubtedly would. Mr. Carter was also of the opinion that the chances for his labors in that direction being disturbed by serenaders, were very slim.

The Habeas Corpus Case.

The case of the State vs. Henry Harris, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was brought before Chief Justice Smith yesterday, at Chambers, on a writ of habeas corpus.

His Honor Judge Avery, at the August term of Wake Superior Court, upon an indictment found by the grand jury, ordered that the defendant give bond in the sum of $200 for his appearance at January term of the Superior Court and answer the charge against him. In default of his not giving bond he was to go to jail. He failed to give bail and accordingly went to jail. Whereupon the counsel for the defendant petitioned Chief Justice Smith to release their client upon a writ of habeas corpus. The same coming on to be heard before the said Chief Justice yesterday, after the argument of counsel, the petition was refused, whereupon the defendant appealed to the Supreme Court.

The Cheirograph.

There have been a number of things patented for the cheap and rapid production of copies of written instruments, but the latest and best thing ever seen by the reporter is a simple arrangement called the cheirograph. The NEWS has one and it "knocks the black" out of electric pens, papyrographs or anything else. You just write, with a prepared ink, on ordinary paper with an ordinary pen, and after having once written you turn your paper, ink side down, on a pad; then remove the original and an impression is left on the pad, from which you can take fifty copies if you like by merely placing a sheet of paper over the pad where the impression is and smoothing it with the hand. It just beats the Jews. Mr. Wetherell also has one at the office of P. F. Pescud & Son's insurance agency, where parties can see its operation.

Donations to the North Carolina Agricultural Society.

The following are donations for the 19th Annual Fair, at Raleigh, October 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th, acknowledged by C. B. Denson, Secretary, in behalf of the Executive Committee:

One hundred pounds best smoking tobacco, Standard of the World and Durham Bull, $55.00, given by Messrs. W. T. Blackwell & Co., Durham, N. C.

We have in the above gift an example of the liberality that has made these gentlemen celebrated throughout the country. Probably no firm of Southern manufacturers ever have been so widely known throughout the world. Their tobacco goes to the ends of the earth, and their enterprise honors their State. Julian S. Carr, Esq., is a member of the Executive Committee, and Major W. T. Blackwell supervisor of Department B for the approaching fair.

One No. 4 Bamboo Rocking Chair, $6.25
One D. R. Chair, one Cane Chair, 6.00
Given by F. R. Sinclair, manufacturer of the "Common Sense" chair, Mottville, New York. Mr. Sinclair's chairs are especially adapted for offices and hotels, and have a widespread reputation.

One Travers' Patent Hammock, given by J. R. Travers & Son, 46 Beekman street, N. Y. This hammock is of new style, brass mounted, and tested to bear one thousand pounds.

The Agricultural Society.

The Executive Committee of the N. C. Agricultural Society held an important meeting at the Yarborough House last night.

A large number of donations of business men throughout the country were received by letter, including fertilizers, carriage ware, furniture, brick, soaps, plows and other implements, metallic shingles, sewing machine, fruit trees and vines, and a variety of other useful goods.

On motion, the Committee awarded the following special premium to be added to the list: That the N. C. Agricultural Society offer a gold medal of the value of $50 as premium for the largest variety of the most neatly and skillfully prepared pharmaceutical preparations, to be prepared in North Carolina; each are to consist of not less than two ounces of fluids, or one ounce of solid preparations, each to be duly labeled with officinal name, and to bear name of the maker.

On motion of Mr. Hines, the Committee resolved to meet weekly hereafter, until the Fair.

On motion of Dr. McKee, it was ordered that the entries for the daily races during the Fair, be taken on the day preceding, between the hours of three and five P. M. On motion Mr. Joseph A. Haywood was requested to take charge of the entries, daily, and forward same to the office of the Secretary.

The Committee on Buildings and Grounds reported the work of preparation for the Fair as going on satisfactorily.

On motion of Mr. Blake, the Secretary has appointed a committee on glass ball shooting.

The Committee on Privileges announced that they would proceed to rent the stalls at the Fair Grounds at 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon September 16th. Persons interested will take notice.

* JOB OSBORN.

BOVINE, MISSISSIPPI, April 22, 1879.
—The following correspondence will explain itself: A. WADDILL, ESQ., LYNCHBURG, VA.—Dear Sir: Observing a certificate from you in reference to the "Iron and Alum Mass," of the Seven Springs, in Washington county, Va., in relation to its efficacy for Liver Diseases, would you have the kindness to inform me whether you used the "Mass" or the "Water;" also, a description of the symptoms and such other information as you may deem pertinent. I am a long-time sufferer with Liver Complaint, and naturally feel very anxious on the subject of a remedy that will afford me even temporary relief. Your early reply will greatly oblige, very respectfully,
WILLIAM BARR.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 12, 1879.—WM. BARR, Esq., Bovine, Mississippi—Dear Sir: Your inquiry in regard to the "Liver case" which was effectually cured in my family from using the "Seven Springs Mass," is before me. The case referred to in my certificate was that of my wife's sister, who is now in her 80th year, and has been a member of my family for the last 27 years. She had been afflicted with Liver Disease for 30 years, sometimes almost dying with pains in the back, breast, and heaviness of the chest, heart-burns (intensely), sick stomach, vomiting, &c. I procured a few bottles of the "Mass" for her, and very soon after she began the use of it, her health commenced to get better, and she continued steadily to improve, and at this writing, so old, seemingly in as good health as a person who had never been afflicted with these diseases. She attributes her cure entirely to the efficacy of the "Seven Springs Mass." I regard it one of the greatest family medicines we have access to, not only for such diseases as above indicated, but for various other complaints for which it is recommended. Hoping these answers satisfactory, I am, very truly, A. WADDILL, Proprietor Lynchburg News.

It is asserted that the ordinary cosmetics used by ladies are productive of great mischief.
